Art Unit: 1742

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4 and 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Arnold (U.S. Patent 6,049,978).

Arnold discloses coating a designated area of a turbine airfoil part with a high density coating material. The part may be masked prior to coating to ensure coating of only the designated area. Then, the coated material is sintered to prevent gas entrapment followed by hot isostatic pressing (HIP) to diffusion bond the coating to the part. With respect to instant claims 4 and 11, the paragraph overlapping columns 14-15 of Arnold indicates that the prior art sintering may be at 2150°F and the HIP step at 2200°F; the difference of less than 3% between these two temperatures is held to meet the “substantially the same” limitation of the instant claims. Thus, all aspects of the claimed invention are held to be fully disclosed by Arnold ‘978.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5-7 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arnold ‘978.

The Arnold patent, described supra, does not discuss oxide forming constituents, and does not disclose the specific coating alloys as defined in instant claims 6, 7, 13 and 14. However, Arnold column 14, lines 51-67 indicates that the coating material in the prior art may be a nickel or cobalt based superalloy, i.e. the Arnold process would encompass processes employing coating materials as defined in the instant claims, including those in which the coating material does not include constituents that would form oxides during the HIP process. Thus, the Arnold patent is held to create a prima facie case of obviousness of the presently claimed invention.

5. In a response filed March 7, 2006, Applicant has amended claims 5 and 12 to overcome the rejection made under 35 USC 112 in the prior Office Action. Applicant has also submitted Terminal Disclaimers, which have been recorded and which overcome the obviousness-type double patenting rejections made in the prior Office Action. The Disclaimers do not overcome the prior art rejections as set forth supra, because the Arnold '978 patent is prior art to the present invention under 35 USC 102(b), i.e. the patent was issued more than one year prior to the filing date of the present application. A Terminal Disclaimer cannot be used to overcome this type of rejection.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 1742

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
